15.05.2023

The webinar on "The Role of Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) in Start-ups," held on May 15, 2023 at 7:30 PM was a significant event organized by the Computer Science Department in collaboration with the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC). The session aimed to shed light on the crucial intersection between intellectual property and the burgeoning startup ecosystem. Attendees had the privilege of gaining insights into the nuanced world of intellectual property, a vital component for startups navigating the competitive business landscape. 27 Students were participated in the Google meet.

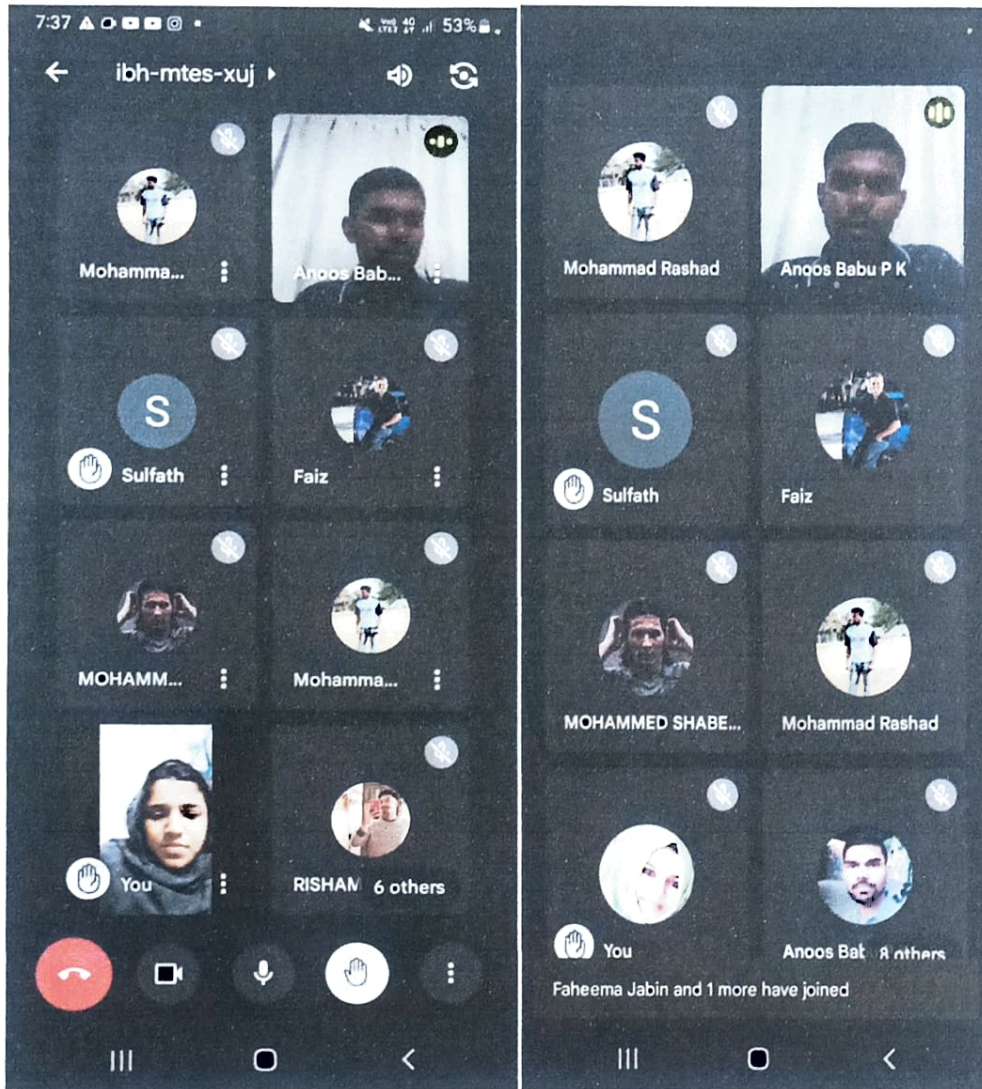

Mr. Anoo Babu P K, an esteemed expert in the field, led the session with his wealth of knowledge and experience. As a seasoned professional, Mr. Anoo Babu P K provided a comprehensive overview of intellectual property rights, emphasizing their pivotal role in safeguarding innovation and creativity. Participants had the opportunity to delve into the specifics of patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets, understanding how each facet contributes to fostering a culture of innovation within start-ups. Mr. Anoo Babu P K's engaging presentation and real-world examples resonated with the audience, making the complex subject matter accessible and relevant to the challenges faced by start-ups in today's dynamic business environment.

The collaborative effort between the Computer Science Department and IQAC showcased the commitment to fostering knowledge and awareness among students, faculty, and professionals alike. The webinar not only provided valuable insights into the intricacies of intellectual property but also served as a platform for networking and exchange of ideas. It underscored the significance of integrating IPR strategies into the fabric of start-up operations, ensuring a strong foundation for growth and sustainability in the ever-evolving technological landscape.
