PROGRAM REPORT
FOUNDATION SKILLS ON PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT

08.12.2022 to 09.12.2022

The "Foundation Skills on Product Development" seminar, conducted on December 8th and 9th, 2022, proved to be a transformative experience for participants. Facilitated by the esteemed resource person, Muhsin Kuttasseri, the event delved into essential skills crucial for effective product development. Kuttasseri, with a wealth of expertise, navigated attendees through the intricacies of the product development lifecycle.

The seminar covered a spectrum of topics, including ideation, market research, prototyping, and effective project management. Muhsin Kuttasseri's engaging presentations and practical insights offered participants a holistic understanding of foundational skills necessary to navigate the dynamic landscape of product development. Through interactive sessions, attendees had the opportunity to apply theoretical knowledge to real-world scenarios, fostering a hands-on learning environment. The collaborative spirit of the seminar facilitated networking among the participants, creating a community of individuals passionate about honing their product development acumen. In conclusion, the "Foundation Skills on Product Development" seminar, spearheaded by Muhsin Kuttasseri, left an indelible mark by equipping participants with the skills and knowledge essential for successful and innovative product development in the ever-evolving business landscape. A total of 38 participants attended the session.
