DISABLED-FRIENDLY, BARRIER FREE ENVIRONMENT

Creating a disabled-friendly and barrier-free environment in a college, by ensuring accessibility to students with disabilities and it promotes inclusivity and equal opportunities for all. It allows them to fully participate in educational activities, access facilities, and engage in social interactions on an equal footing with their peers. Disabled-friendly environment also enhances the academic success of students by enabling them to attend classes, access libraries, laboratories, and other educational resources without facing unnecessary obstacles.

Gems Arts and Science College has a significant number of students with diverse abilities, and the college administration places great emphasis on ensuring their well-being. To establish a truly inclusive environment, the administration has implemented a range of programs and techniques that prioritize the needs of these students. Notable measures undertaken by the college include: ramps, Divyangjan library, electric vehicle accessibility, dedicated care takers, scribe assistance for exams, classrooms in ground floors and hand rails.

CLASS ROOM IN GROUND FLOOR

Recognizing the importance of accessibility, GEMS College allocates classrooms for Divyagyan students on the ground floor. This strategic decision ensures convenience and inclusivity, allowing students with diverse needs to navigate their educational journey seamlessly. By situating these classrooms on the ground level, the college promotes a welcoming environment that eliminates physical barriers, fostering equal participation and enriching the overall educational experience for all students, regardless of their abilities or mobility requirements.

DEDICATED CARE TAKERS

A dedicated caretaker for differently-abled students at GEMSCollege offers crucial support and assistance. Their focused attention ensures personalized care, aiding students in overcoming challenges and maximizing their academic potential. This approach fosters inclusivity and promotes a conducive learning environment. The caretaker's commitment enhances the overall educational experience for differently-abled students, fostering independence and success within the GEMSCollege community.
