WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY; E-WASTE MANAGEMENT AWARENESS PROGRAMME - DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER APPLICATION

DATE: 5/6/2018

PROGRAMME REPORT

On June 5, 2018, an impactful E-Waste Management Awareness Program was orchestrated by Mohammed Asgar Ali C, Assistant Professor in the Department of BCA, to coincide with World Environment Day. This event, conducted both in the computer lab and across the campus, saw enthusiastic participation from approximately 17 students.

The programme commenced in the computer lab, where Mohammed Asgar Ali C, an expert in the field, delivered an insightful session on the environmental ramifications of electronic waste. His engaging presentation emphasised the importance of adopting responsible e-waste disposal practices. A practical demonstration in the computer lab further illustrated proper disposal methods, utilising the lab's resources to enhance the learning experience.

The outreach extended beyond the confines of the lab, with interactive sessions and discussions taking place across different areas of the campus. This approach aimed to involve a broader audience and encourage a campus-wide commitment to responsible e-waste management. The discussions covered the challenges associated with e-waste and encouraged students to brainstorm sustainable solutions.

To supplement the theoretical knowledge, Mohammed Asgar Ali C distributed informative materials, ensuring that participants had tangible resources to refer back to. The dissemination of information extended beyond the confines of the computer lab, reaching various corners of the campus and fostering a sense of environmental responsibility among the student body.

By strategically combining the educational resources of the computer lab with a campus-wide initiative, Mohammed Asgar Ali C succeeded in creating a comprehensive E-Waste Management Awareness Program. The programme not only equipped students with knowledge but also inspired a collective commitment to environmentally conscious practices within the BCA department and the broader campus community.
