VALENTINE'S DAY OBSERVATION- LOVE BLANKET – NSS

DATE: 14/02/2021

PROGRAMME REPORT

Valentine's Day, traditionally associated with love and affection, was celebrated in a unique and compassionate manner by the GEMS NSS unit in collaboration with the Charity Club of GEMS College on February 14, 2021. Instead of traditional expressions of love, this observance focused on extending kindness and support to those less fortunate. The event involved the collection and distribution of blankets to individuals who were sleeping in the streets and slums of Malappuram District.

Key Highlights:

1. Blanket Collection: The central activity of the event was the collection of blankets. Students from GEMS College came forward to contribute by donating a total of 50 blankets. This generous act demonstrated the spirit of giving and compassion.
2. Distribution to the Needy: The collected blankets were distributed to individuals who were sleeping in the streets and slums. This act of kindness provided much-needed warmth and comfort to those facing challenging living conditions.
3. Understanding Social and Economic Realities: The program also aimed to raise awareness among volunteers about the social and economic conditions of individuals, including children, who live on the streets. It offered insights into the hardships faced by these marginalized members of society.

Conclusion: The Valentine's Day Observation on February 14, 2021, was a touching and compassionate initiative by the GEMS NSS unit and the Charity Club. The collection and distribution of blankets to individuals living on the streets and in slums highlighted the importance of extending kindness and support to those less fortunate. The act of giving blankets not only provided warmth and comfort but also conveyed a powerful message of care and compassion. This event underscored the significance of empathy and understanding the social and economic realities faced by marginalized individuals in society.
